BALLISTIC TESTS AID INVESTIGATION

Detective Lieutenant Mc-Crary Says 'More Later,' After Testifying in Session of Grand Jury.

With the motive for the slaying still unrevealed, the Fulton grand jury last yesterday returned a first degree murder indictment against Odie Vernon Fluker, confessed bandit, for the year-old slaying of Eddie Guyol, Atlanta number racket king.

The indictment was voted after Atlanta and Birmingham detectives and a ballistic expert, together with three unidentified witnesses went before the grand jury, and will be formally returned this morning.

Detective Lieutenant C. E. Mc-Crary of the Atlanta police department, who has directed the investigation into the killing, announced yesterday that Mrs. Myrtle Guyol, the slain man's widow, had positively identified Fluker as the slayer. Mrs. Guyol, who is in an Atlanta hospital for an operation, did not go before the grand jury.

Ballistic tests by Point
McCrary and his associates, in addition to the identification by Mrs. Guyol, are counting heavily on the ballistic testimony, it being the first time in the history of the city that ballistics have figured so prominently in a murder case.

City Primary Race Fees Are Set by Committee

Candidates for mayor, city attorney, comptroller and chief of construction must pay entrance fees of $500 each to enter the September 2 municipal primary under a decision last night of the city democratic executive committee, headed by James T. Osburn.
Candidates may begin qualifying for various posts on July 15 and enter before the lists close at noon Saturday, August 1. Runover races were discussed and a method to avoid successive runovers in the councilmanic contests was considered but a decision was deferred until another called meeting prior to July 15.

Other entrance fees were set as follows: Superintendent of electrical affairs, building inspector, and tax collector $300 each; aldermen, $150 each; councilman, $100 each; city treasurer, $100; board of education members, $25 each, and members of the democratic executive committee, $10 each.

ALLEN AND LOVETT RETURN TO STATE

Tentative List of Delegates to Convention Discussed With Officials.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, May 22.—After discussing with administration officials and members of the Georgia congressional delegation the tentative list of names submitted for consideration in selecting the slate of Georgia delegates to the democratic national convention, Marion H. Allen, of Milledgeville, and Judge A. B. Lovett, of Savannah, manager and advisory committee chairman, respectively, of the Roosevelt campaign, organization in the state, returned to their homes today satisfied that a representative group of Georgians will be sent to the forthcoming Philadelphia convence.

Before leaving Manager Allen said no final decision had been made either as to the personnel of the Georgia slate or the number of delegates to be selected. A further conference with administration leaders, including President Roosevelt himself, will perhaps be necessary before a definite announcement is made.

More Delegates Suggested.
In all probability, however, 12 delegates from the state-at-large will be decided upon, with each given a third of a vote, in lieu of the four principals and four alternates, which usually makes up the state-at-large slate.

2 ATLANTANS DIE, ANOTHER INJURED AS AUTO CRASHES

Car Overtakes on Sharp Curve Near Palmetto;
Dudley Maddox and William Shumate Killed.

Two Atlanta men were killed instantly and a third seriously injured shortly before noon yesterday when the car in which they were riding left the highway on a sharp curve about a mile this side of Palmetto and overturned several times, throwing the occupants from the machine.

The dead were identified as Dudley
P. Maddox, 30, of 203 DeGress avenue, N. E., and William H. Shumate, 31, of 100 Flat Shoals avenue, S. E.
Both men were killed instantly.

The injured man was identified as W. T. Shattles, 24, of 1031 Delaware avenue, S. E. He was taken to Grady hospital in an unconscious condition and the extent of his injuries was undetermined last night.

Atlanta Eyewitness.
F. C. Newsum, of 818 Springdale road, and a Dr. Bullard, of Palmetto, were eyewitnesses to the crash. They were standing approximately ten feet from the spot where the demolished car came to rest, according to New-sum.

The car, a coach said to have belonged to Maddox, was traveling rapidly along the highway and failed to make the curve, the witness said. The machine left its wheels rolled over three or four times and came to rest on its side. All the men were thrown clear of the wreckage, one of them being struck against a telephone post beside the highway. The car was demolished.

Police Chief O. W. Gullatt, of Fair-burn, said the car sped through that

7 VIGILANTES HELD IN RITUAL SLAYING COUNTY AUDITORS

Member of 'Black Legion' Explains Victim Beat
and Kicked His Wife.

DETROIT, May 22.—(AP)—Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea said today he would formally charge seven men, members of the "Black Legion," a secret vigilante society, with the "ritual slaying" of Charles A. Poole, 32-year-old WPA worker.

Sixteen men, all of whom Police Inspector John I. Navarre said were members of the black-robed organization, were held for investigation. Four of them have confessed, he said, that they took part in the abduction and slaying of Poole, whose body was found May 13 in a roadside ditch near here.

The four, he said, were:
Harvey Davis, 35, a "colonel" in the organization; Dayton Dean, 36; Irwin Lee and Urban Lipps.

With them when Poole was slain, Navarre said, were George C. Johnson, Paul R. Edwards and Edgar Baldwin.

McCrea said he would ask murder
warrants for the seven Saturday.

Navarre said Dean confessed he first shot into Poole's body, that Lee had admitted firing at the victim, and that Davis had confessed he directed the shooting, while Lipps admitted he was a witness.

"I learned the expedition only as a whipping party," Prosecutor McCrea quoted Davis as saying in a formal statement following his confession.

The "party" was a national committee, he said, and was organized, because two relatives of Poole's wife had said he beat and kicked her.

British Cabinet Aid Quits in Scandal

Budget Leak 'Forces' Colonial Secretary To Resign Position.

LONDON, May 22.—(AP)—James H. Thomas, who rose from errand boy and engine wiper to high position with the nickname of "Dress-Shirt Jim," quit the cabinet under fire tonight exactly one month after the budget leak sensation broke over Great Britain.

His resignation as colonial secretary, an official announcement said, was immediately accepted by King Edward and Prime Minister Stanley
Baldwin.

The dated resignation was handed in May 20, the day a judicial tribunal concluded an investigation of the leakage to which it linked Thomas.

It caused the greatest political scandal in England since the World War.
Budget secrets are traditionally sacrosanct.

A report will be made by the tribunal to parliament, probably next week.

Thomas was the third minister to resign since Baldwin organized his conservative government last November after the general elections. The others were Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary who likewise quit under a

Bill Charging Embezzlement Drawn Against Simmons; Action Deferred.

A bill charging embezzlement was drawn yesterday against J. Walton Simmons, clerk of the Fulton superior court, as the Fulton grand jury took up investigation of an alleged shortage of approximately $700 reported in the clerk's cash accounts by the county auditors.

After two witnesses had been called into the grand jury room late yesterday afternoon, the jurors adjourned and announced that the matter will be considered at a special session
Wednesday morning.

More than half a dozen witnesses were subpoenaed or summoned in connection with the case yesterday.

Auditors Called.
Included among those called were James L. and Thomas S. Respass, members of the auditing firm which reported the discrepancy. E. W. Lemmon, deputy clerk in Simmons' office;
Guy A. Moore, Fulton tax receiver;
Roy Baker, George Haney and S. W.
Huff, former deputy clerks with Simmons; a representative of the Trust Company of Georgia, and a representative of the Fulton sheriff's office.

Only the Respass brothers, carrying a voluminous pile of records, were called into the grand jury room.

The bill of indictment was understood to have been drawn yesterday afternoon in the solicitor general's office but whether it was presented to the grand jurors was not known.

The investigation of the alleged shortage in Simmons' accounts began when the semi-annual audit of that office was submitted to the board of county commissioners, which referred the matter to Solicitor General John A. Boykin upon the commissioner's last meeting.

The audit criticized Simmons' method of administering the affairs of his

Roosevelt Plans Tour in Midwest And South During G.O.P. Conclave

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—A swift swing into the midwest and southwest, coinciding with the period when the republican national convention will be at full blast, was mapped today by President Roosevelt prior to his departure late tonight for Hyde Park, N. Y.

Arriving in New York tomorrow morning, the chief executive will spend three days with his mother, Mrs.
Sarah Delano Roosevelt, who injured her hip nine days ago in a fall at the home of her great-grandchildren there.

Mr. Roosevelt announced to reporters that he was not planned to leave Washington for a week's tour on June 8. The republican convention opens on June 8. The President plans to swing into Arkansas, Texas and Indiana, participating in patriotic and other exercises there.

His good neighbor visit to Canada will be postponed until later in the year, he said, because he wanted to be back in Washington June 15.
The southwestern swing was described by the President as almost definitely scheduled, even though congress has not adjourned by June 16.
In that event, he indicated, the sen-

TOWNSEND ORDERS PENSION OFFICIALS TO DEFEY PROBERS

Doctor Says Committee Lacks Courage To Arraign Him Before the House for Contempt.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—
From a quiet retreat in a Baltimore hotel, Dr. F. E. Townsend today instructed officials of his old age pension movement to adopt his own attitude of defiance toward the house committee investigating their activities.

Described by his assistants as busi-lly and "happily" writing the story of his life and philosophies, the co-founder of the Townsend plan paused long enough to accuse the committee of "unconstitutional persecution" and enjoin his colleagues to refuse to answer its questions.

Seek Contempt Writ.
Even as his message was disseminated, however, Townsend faced a threat of direct court action on a charge of holding the house of representatives in contempt. Speaker Byrns hinted plainly that the case might be referred directly to the United States attorney, instead of arraigning the pension leader before the house.

The retired physician signalled his own defiance of the committee late yesterday by walking out of the hearing. Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, late of the Huey Long Share-Our-Wealth movement, took him to Baltimore in a taxicab.

His action today was announced by his counsel, Sheridan Downey, who also confirmed that, overnight, Townsend headquarters here had been packed up bag and baggage and shipped off to Chicago. Downey confided to reporters that he, like the

5-POWER FRONT SOUGHT BY BLOM

Premier-To-Be Omits
Italy, Germany; Would Follow Britain's Lead.

PARIS, May 22.—(AP)—Leon Blum, prospective premier of France, laid the groundwork tonight for a united mutual security front with five European nations as his efforts to form a cabinet apparently hit a new snag.

The cabinet deflection came in the reported refusal of Edouard Herriot, staunch advocate of American debt payment, to accept the foreign affairs portfolio. Instead, the former premier's friends declared, he will be an official candidate for president of the chamber of deputies.

Blum continued a series of talks on future French foreign policy with diplomats, including Nicholas Titulescu, foreign minister of Rumania, and the soviet charge d'affaires.

From these conversations, it was reported, there developed three points of France's future foreign policy to guide the new "popular front" administration taking office June 1:

1. Fidelity to the League of Nations and to France's military alliances and
2. Adherence to a policy of collective security by mutual assistance.

3. Co-operation with Great Britain on important European questions.
Participating in the united front with France will be Great Britain, Russia and three members of the Little Entente—Yugoslavia, Rumania and

Two Missiles Slip From Army Bomber

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 22.—
(UP)—Two 100-pound bombs slipped from their racks on a United States army plane and fell 4,000 feet to explode without serious damage in the yard of two residences at Carmichael, east of Sacramento, today.

The bombs contained only a minimum amount of black powder.

One of the heavy missiles landed in an empty pig pen on the property of Maynard Rowland. Inside the Rowland home, 100 feet away, Mrs. Rowland was entertaining four guests.
None was injured.

Ambrose Jerguson, a ranch worker, was within 50 feet of the place where the other bomb exploded when it landed on the property of Edgar Miller.
Jerguson escaped injury.

Lieutenant N. F. Timper, of the 31st bombardment squadron, Hamilton field, reported a defect in the rack mechanism permitted the bombs to slip into space. The plane was 4,000 feet up in the practice maneuvers.

TWO MEN PLACED IN FULTON TOWER

Smith Faces Possible
Term of 192 Years Imprisonment, While Lee
Could Be Given 187 Years

By LAMAR Q. BALL.
Guilty verdicts were returned yesterday against Robert E. S. Lee, the so-called Earl of Pelham, and William A. Smith, star salesman for the American Bond & Share Company, by a jury that deliberated for two hours.

Both Lee and Smith were found guilty on all the remaining counts in a 47-count indictment that was whittled down by government attorneys in an effort to facilitate a trial that lasted three weeks.

Smith was found guilty on 39 counts, all charging use of the mails to defraud. Lee was found guilty on 38 counts. The extra count against Smith was based on the losses of an investor before Lee had joined Benjamin R. Bradley in his operations of the American Bond & Share Corporation and affiliated companies and before the Securities Exchange Commission raided the offices and found Bradley and his companies bankrupt and investors robbed of approximately $750,000.

To Be Sentenced Today.
United States Judge William H.
Barrett delayed sentencing of Smith and Lee until this morning. Each count calls for a five-year sentence, excepting the conspiracy count, which calls only for two years in prison, and it is possible for Judge Barrett to sentence Smith to 192 years and Lee to 187 years.

It is usual, however, for judges to make the maximum term for one count the limit of the term.

Both Lee and Smith were placed in custody of United States Marshal Charles H. Cox and both spent last night in jail.

What to do with Lee and Smith
last night was a problem that Judge Barrett put squarely up to the United

The Zeppelin Hindenburg landed today at 4:12 a. m. (10:12 p. m. Friday, Atlanta time), completing its second round trip between Germany and the United States.

The dirigible had appeared over the airport at 3:10 a. m. and hovered over the landing field, where officials and a crew were awaiting it until daylight made it easier to land.

The Hindenburg left Lakehurst, N. J., at 10:05 p. m. (Atlanta time), Wednesday, and took 48 hours, 7 minutes to complete the flight.

It cut 2 1/2 minutes from the time of its first record-breaking eastward journey.

Elimination of City Traffic Lights Except at Peak Hours Requested

Joint Committee of Council Named To Study Problem Given Recommendation; Propose Avar Plan Would Expedite Movement of Cars, Lessen Lawbreaking.

Elimination of traffic control lights except at peak hours when necessary to public safety to expedite the flow of vehicles and to prevent jams was recommended yesterday at a meeting of a newly established joint committee of council named to study the system and make recommendations on proposed new installations.

Councilman Alvin L. Richards, chairman of the electric lights committee of city council, and Dewey L. Johnson, superintendent of electrical affairs, asked the elimination "to create more respect for the lights when they are burned, to provide more convenience for drivers, better observation of traffic laws and save expense."

Under the proposal, the traffic division of the police department, under the supervision of Captain Jack Malcom, will be asked to make its own survey of the lights, located at more than 100 intersections within the city limits. The survey will determine the hours during which the lights are required for easy flow of traffic and safety of the public.

Convenience Cited. The lights would be burned only during those hours, permitting drivers to proceed through the intersections at other times without the inconvenience of having to wait for lights to "change when no other vehicle is not even in sight, as happens hundreds of times each day and night."

Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, chairman of the public safety committee and Captain Malcom, were asked to attend a meeting of the committee next Friday afternoon at which with the Florida national guard nearly 40 years before his appointment as chief of the militia bureau last year by President Roosevelt. During the war he commanded a Florida national guard brigade in France and attained an enviable record.

Warm Springs Children See League Marionettes

Children at the Warm Springs Foundation were entertained at a marionette night at the institution by members of the Atlanta Junior League.

The show, featuring a sketch in which the central figures were a clown and his dog, Bobo, lasted about 45 minutes and was responsibly received by the more than 100 children who attended.

The show was presented by the following members of the league: Mrs. Robert B. Peggam Jr., Mrs. John K. Otley Jr., Mrs. R. L. Foreman Jr., Mrs. Murdoch Egan, Mrs. Ruthford Ellis, Mrs. Marion Kiser and Mrs. Daniel E. Conklin.

The Atlanta were entertained by officials of the foundation prior to presentation of the show.

NEW DEAL'S TARIFF REGAINING MARKETS

Reciprocal Pacts Will Recapture 580 Million Lost During G. O. P. Years.

WASHINGTON, May 22 (UP)—Execution of the 14 reciprocal trade agreements negotiated with foreign governments will result in recapture of approximately $580,000,000 in foreign trade lost to this country during the depression, official estimates indicated tonight.

These New Deal trading agreements have been concluded with Cuba, Belgium, Haiti, Sweden, Colombia, Brazil, Canada, Finland, France, Guatemala, Honduras, Netherlands, Switzerland and Nicaragua. Commerce department experts estimate one half of the former trade with these nations, which took approximately 37 per cent of our total exports prior to the conclusion of the trade treaties, has been at this time in 1935 only.

One result of this recoup will be that some $232,000,000 more will be paid out in wages to labor in this country than would have been paid if there had been no trade agreements, and some 200,000 persons will be removed from unemployed rolls, officials said.

Exports Increase. Coincident with these estimates, the commerce department announced today that United States exports for the first four months of 1936 rose to a value of $768,962,000 from $688,408,000 for the same period last year.

One immediate result of boosting foreign trade has been an increase in customs receipts. President Roosevelt estimated in his budget message that $353,191,000 would be turned in by collectors of customs last year. Already, $345,653,085 has been received. This points to an increase over the President's figure of about $25,000,000 at this time in 1935 only.

Trade Agreements. The reciprocal trade agreements have had a definite although indirect effect upon this rise in revenue, officials said. Imports of Cuban sugar and tobacco have been running far ahead of last year at the same date. A quota is placed upon Cuban sugar but producers there filled their allotment much more slowly in 1935. Fearful that they would fall behind in 1936, they have been shipping more rapidly this year.

Cuban tobacco has come in greater amounts because planters rushed in enormous shipments to save money on higher import rates which became effective last month. These were set up after the supreme court abrogated the A.A. and the Spanish quota was lifted, as well as the duties.

In addition to these items, agricultural products have been shipped in much greater quantities. Wool, upon which a duty averaging 30 cents a pound is placed, has been imported in greater profusion.

U. S. ROADS MONEY POURS INTO STATE

More Than Half Million of Highway Funds Paid During Week.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(P)—The Public Roads Bureau announced today more than $500,000 of federal highway funds has been paid to Georgia since the decision early this week to release money withheld here because of a dispute over Governor Tal- madge's "financial dictatorship."

The bureau said payments will continue as the State Highway Department calls for federal money under existing and future contracts. Senator George, democrat, Georgia, said altogether the state is to receive approximately $18,000,000.

Payments were suspended last January when dispute arose over the legal occupant of the office of state treasurer. Two weeks ago the Georgia supreme court upheld Governor Tal- madge's action in removing the treasurer and appointing a successor.

"I went visiting and found there's a DIFFERENCE IN CORN FLAKES"

HOW DID YOU EVER GET THIS CEREAL SO CRISP AND DELICIOUS? IN THE OVEN?

NO, INDEED! KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKES ARE ALWAYS LIKE THIS. IT'S THE WAY THEY'RE PACKED.

YOU SEE THE WAXTITE INSIDE WRAPPER KEEPS THE CORN FLAKES OVEN-FRESH. AND ONLY KELLOGG'S HAVE IT.

THAT'S NEWS TO ME. I THOUGHT ALL BRANDS WERE ALIKE.

AT HOME, NEXT DAY

SAY! WHERE'D YOU GET THESE CORN FLAKES? THEY'RE SWELL!

THEY'RE KELLOGG'S. AREN'T THEY CRISP AND FRESH? WE'LL HAVE THEM EVERY DAY!

YOU BET!

Nothing takes the place of

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

TREAT your family to oven-fresh crispness! Right now they'll appreciate more than ever the difference between Kellogg's and other corn flakes.

An exclusive Kellogg process gives them finer flavor—toasts them to a more tempting crispness. That's why they're the world's favorite, outselling all others by millions of packages.

Save time and toil in the kitchen. Serve Kellogg's for breakfast, lunch or the children's supper. They're nourishing and delicious. Rich in energy. Easy to digest.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are among the few foods that have not gone up in price. Many generous servings cost but a few cents. The big value in ready-to-eat cereals.

To be sure of the best, ask your grocer for Kellogg's—the only brand of Corn Flakes made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MISS PERKINS REPORTS INCREASE IN BUSINESS

Pay Rolls, Jobs Will Escape Usual Seasonal Slump, Secretary Says.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(P)—Secretary Perkins at one of her now infrequent press conferences reported today that business was coming through this spring without the usual seasonal slump, with both pay rolls and jobs increasing.

Sitting with her hat on, in her immense paneled office, a room carpeted in red with red draperies, Miss Perkins held a pair of spectacles before her eyes while she read from a report saying:

That 225,000 workers had been added to pay rolls during April and that pay rolls had increased $4,200,000.

That the gain in factory pay rolls brought the pay roll index to where it stood in October, 1930, to where it stood in April during the last 17 years had employment increased.

Durable Goods. That the durable goods industries were making gains of "major importance," especially so in furniture-set works, rolling mills, automobiles, electrical machinery, foundries and sawmills.

That the employment index in durable goods was 17 per cent above the low of March, 1933.

That quarrying, private building construction, dyeing and cleaning were showing "sharp seasonal gains."

Employment Increase. "Increases in employment in several industries have raised the April level to the highest point recorded in recent years," she read. "Hotel employment exceeded the maximum shown since October, 1931. Employment in the power and light companies reached the highest point reported since January, 1932. The metal lines are back to June, 1931."

Looking up from the statement, the secretary said that factory employment is back to 1930. "She referred to gains in the 'interesting industries'—in locomotives, shipbuilding, steam and electric car building, in aircraft and automobiles.

Discussing decreases, she said "with the exception of the seasonal decline of 30.9 per cent in employment in the cottonseed oil, cake and meal industry, the major declines were not pronounced."

SOLON'S SON IS KILLED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

ELIZABETH, La., May 22.—(P)—Don Beeson, 16-year-old son of State Representative John J. Beeson, of Vernon parish, met death in a head-on automobile collision near here last night, when five others were injured.

Beeson's neck was broken, his skull fractured and his chest crushed. He died instantly. His father, who was in Baton Rouge, came here.

LEHMAN WITHDRAWAL THREATENS 44 VOTES

Roosevelt Will Spend Week-End in N. Y., Press Governor To Run.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(UP)—President Roosevelt tonight prepared to use the full force of his persuasive powers to mediate a New York state political crisis in which he is threatened with the loss of 45 electoral votes by Governor Herbert H. Lehman's refusal to seek reelection.

The chief executive will spend the week-end at Hyde Park, N. Y. He is going primarily to visit his injured mother, but is expected to take advantage of the opportunity to examine the entire political situation. He may even have a heart-to-heart talk with Lehman whom he has described as "my good right arm," and urge him to reconsider his decision.

Although Lehman privately told close friends more than a year ago that he wanted to retire from politics, none thought he would quit in a year when his close friend was up for reelection.

Democratic leaders looked frantically around for a possible successor. They found no likely timber and promptly turned to the President.

They regard Lehman as the prize vote-getter from the democratic point of view in the entire state. He is Jewish. That alone gives him a tremendous appeal in greater New York and in the upstate cities. Moreover, his record as lieutenant-governor and his outstanding leadership in the business world have combined to put the stamp of approval upon him in some financial and industrial quarters.

To lose him now, with New York regarded as a borderline state in the November elections obviously would be a disaster to the President's chances of carrying the state.

Flynn Visits F. D. R. Mr. Roosevelt reiterated today his hope that Lehman would reconsider his decision and run. He added the state needs him. This came on top of a visit with Edward J. Flynn, Bronx democratic leader and secretary of state for New York. Flynn, when he left the White House, indicated a "draft Lehman" move was being considered when he was asked, "I think this state convention will nominate him in September." "Do you think he will accept?" he was asked. "The people want him," was the reply.

In the event Lehman refuses to budge, democrats, particularly the upstate brand, will be looking to groom Robert H. Jackson, of Jamestown, N. Y., for the nomination. Jackson made a record for himself here as counsel for the Internal Revenue Bureau and is well thought of in western and central New York.

STOREY WILL OPPOSE BYRNES FOR SENATE

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 22.—(UP)—South Carolina's senatorial primary was thrown wide open today when Thomas P. Storey, city mayor of Charleston and a dynamic campaigner, announced he will oppose Senator James F. Byrnes.

Storey announced his candidacy with a furious blast at New Deal policies that made certain a bitter campaign prior to the democratic primary of August 25.

Byrnes is a right-hand man of President Roosevelt in the senate, an ardent follower of New Deal policies and one of the strongest personalities in the United States senate.

Referring to "despotism," "sacrifices of liberties," and the "challenge to our system of government" which he inferred was developing under the New Deal, Storey said:

"The time has come when the great principles and traditions of the democratic party must be vindicated at the polls in South Carolina."

KILLER-UNDERTAKER SPURNS WIFE'S BURIAL

OREGON, Ill., May 22.—(UP)—Guy M. Talmadge sat sullen and silent in his Ogle county jail cell today while his wife, Bessie, who died last week, was being buried.

"What do I want to go for?" he growled when Sheriff Delos Blanchard asked if he cared to attend his wife's funeral.

Scores of relatives and friends of the slain woman followed their dead to the near-by cross-road cemetery where her father and mother were buried.

Talmadge, bald-headed, 58-year-old undertaker's assistant, was to be arraigned tomorrow on a formal charge of murder.

Japan's Conquest of Cotton Trade Is Revealed by U. S. Tariff Body

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Increased to $7,481,000 in 1934 and $7,481,000 in 1935.

The true picture of Japan's extraordinary success in the world cotton textile market is best indicated, however, by an expansion of sales to "all other countries," which would comprise Latin America, Africa, hundreds of Pacific islands and other scattered areas of moderate purchasing capacity but contributory to the grand total of Japan's sales in markets gained during the past two years.

Japan's cotton piece goods exports to "all other" increased from 177,800,000 square yards in 1928 to 571,800,000 in 1935, and to 1,168,100,000 in 1935.

Not to Be Overlooked. President Roosevelt explained today that the increase in sales was not due to conflict with the administration's "good neighbor" trade policy. He said the program of seeking reciprocal trade agreements and lowering tariff duties on Japanese goods was not the cause.

The increased textile duties were ordered, he said, because the present rates were allowing foreign competition to harm an important American industry in a branch of commerce.

Attempts to reach a "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan for that country to curtail its textile exports to the United States to a harmless level were unsuccessful, he added.

Japanese Spinners To Hold Meeting. WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Japanese spinners today advocated increased raw cotton purchases outside the United States in retaliation for the new tariff action in raising the cotton goods duty.

The new tariff law caused great surprise here. Government officials declared that the higher duties were not intended to harm the Japanese textile industry.

The Japanese Spinners' Association called an early meeting to consider the situation.

The tariff increases here, although not intended to harm the Japanese textile industry, have made tremendous progress in the Philippine cotton piece goods market the last three years, he said.

There is now in effect an agreement whereby Japan and the Philippines share the Philippine cotton textile market, and this is not presently the subject of negotiations, officials said.

The tariff commission survey made no criticism or political comment regarding Japanese system of production, but reported the salient facts: (1) That about 85 per cent of the Japanese textile industry is operated in the Japanese textile industry are females between 14 and 18 years of age; (2) that Japanese mills have been able to offer lower wages because of depression in farming and silk-cocoon industries; (3) that home or establishments employing less than 10 workers are not subject to law requirements and work long hours; (4) that female spinners in Osaka district of central Japan in 1934 received $4.00 daily wage in 1935 to $7.48, 100 square yards in 1935 to $7.48, 100 square yards in 1935.

The tariff commission survey made no criticism or political comment regarding Japanese system of production, but reported the salient facts: (1) That about 85 per cent of the Japanese textile industry is operated in the Japanese textile industry are females between 14 and 18 years of age; (2) that Japanese mills have been able to offer lower wages because of depression in farming and silk-cocoon industries; (3) that home or establishments employing less than 10 workers are not subject to law requirements and work long hours; (4) that female spinners in Osaka district of central Japan in 1934 received $4.00 daily wage in 1935 to $7.48, 100 square yards in 1935 to $7.48, 100 square yards in 1935.

There is now in effect an agreement whereby Japan and the Philippines share the Philippine cotton textile market, and this is not presently the subject of negotiations, officials said.

THE DEALERS' RING FLORENZA TO SLAYING

Mother Says Suspect Hears Bell Ring When It Doesn't.

NEW YORK, May 22.—(UP)—Linked to the assault of murder of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton by a slender piece of twine, John Florenza today testified to his mother tearfully describing him as an unusually quiet youth who imagined he heard the doorbell ringing when it was not.

The state closed its case against the 24-year-old apprentice upholsterer with the testimony of two twine dealers and an assistant district attorney.

The twine dealer testified the 13-inch piece of cord found under Mrs. Titterton's body was of the type used almost exclusively by upholsterers.

Edward H. Rutherford added it was "similar" to the twine his firm sold to the shop where Florenza was employed.

To support his contention a confession police attributed to Florenza was a "fictitious" imagination, Defense Counsel Henry Klumber called several witnesses who testified the defendant's behavior was strange.

His stepfather, Ignazio Cupani, a WPA cabinet maker said he used to sit at the time in a rocking chair with his head between his hands.

While walking on the street, Florenza had a habit of turning around "very suddenly" as if he thought someone was calling him, the witness added.

The mother, Mrs. Theresa Cupani, testified her son frequently imagined he heard the doorbell ringing.

Florenza's employer, Theodore Krugger, who was recalled as a defense witness after testifying for the state yesterday, said when he "bawled Johnny out" he just grinned.

Krugger said he would call an alienist Monday to tell more about the defendant's mental condition.

RAILROAD HEAD ATTACKS U. S. RETIREMENT ACT

Carriers as Whole Failed by $208,000 To Make Profit in 1935.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Climaxing a succession of railroad executive witnesses in District of Columbia supreme court, Edward Buckland, chairman of the National Railroad Retirement Board, today testified that the nation's railroads, as a whole, failed by $208,000 to make a profit in 1935.

Buckland, chairman of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Credit Corporation, was called to testify for 141 class one railroads which are attacking the railroad retirement act as unconstitutional.

Evidence that aging firemen were allowed to "double up" on a single job, with single pay, in hot weather was introduced by the government.

Leading railroad executives testified before Justice Benjamin Bailey that an excise tax, levied against the roads at the time pension law was passed, would throw their lines "into the red."

Executives Testify. F. E. Williamson, chairman of the New York Central; Hale Holden, chairman of the Southern Pacific; George B. Ellis, president of the Atlantic Coast Line; and L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central, all said curtailment, including layoffs, would follow payment of the tax.

"As far as the records of the railroads reveal," Buckland testified, "the statements made by executives here today are correct."

Buckland said the railroads face "a very serious situation with regard to maturing obligations." In the next two years, he said, $1,750,000,000 of maturities will come due, he said.

Loans Refused. The railroads' ability to obtain R. F. loans was seriously affected by the tax costs, he testified, citing the case of his own road. The New Haven was refused a loan, he said, because "among other things, we failed to include in our statement the amounts due under the railroad retirement act." Failing to get the loan, the line went into bankruptcy.

"I didn't mean to imply," he demanded Charles M. Hay, government attorney, "that any of these roads went into receivership which would not otherwise go on."

"Under the trusteeship, you held onto your own pension system, didn't you?" Hay asked.

"Oh, yes," he said to other roads. "I suppose so."

"In other words, the pension system is looked upon in the railroad business as an asset to the road."

OUR FOREIGN TRADE

Observance of Foreign Trade Week in the principal cities throughout the United States served to awaken commerce and industry to the necessity of removing the subject of our commerce with other nations of the earth from the beclouding influences of politics, and investing it with the importance of a department which would handle it entirely from an economic standpoint.

The suggestion was made by John Lee Coulter, former member of the tariff commission, before the Academy of World Economics in Washington at a session attended by Secretaries Hull and Roper, together with diplomats of practically every ranking nation and other high officials of the United States government. Secretary Hull, who has completed reciprocal trade agreements with 14 nations, the last one having just been made with France, urged the establishment of a world regime of equality of commercial treatment for all nations as the most effective means of restoring international trade. Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, responded with a description of Hull's policies as "the greatest hope for the maintenance of peace."

Roper called for utilization of "constructive channels of commercial intercourse as a foundation upon which we may build for peace, rather than destroy them and pave the way for war," while Hiroshi Satou, Japanese ambassador, pleaded for a policy of "live and let live" in international commercial intercourse.

While the United States could not forestall the disastrous effects of the world-wide depression upon our foreign trade, it could have avoided the additional havoc created by the reprisals of some 40 nations in retaliation for the enactment of the Iniquitous Hawley-Smoot tariff measure.

We erected such a high tariff wall foreign nations could not sell their products to us, and they came back at us with restrictions and prohibitions that barred the sale of our products. The "splendid isolation" policy engendered by prohibitive tariffs may be twisted into patriotic twaddle that convinces some of its soundness, but it does not work out in practical economics. Prior to enactment of the Hawley-Smoot tariff measure our exports amounted to approximately 10 per cent of our total production, and this 10 per cent might easily represent the difference between profit and loss in many industries.

Dr. Alexander V. Dye, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the federal Department of Commerce, stressed this point in an address before the Foreign Traders' Association at Philadelphia last week, when he said:

In 1935 about 7 per cent of the movable goods which we produced in the United States was exported. While the proportion was somewhat smaller than in the years prior to 1930, it nevertheless constituted an amount equivalent to or larger than the entire production of goods in a number of individual states.

The use of a single figure of this sort in attempting to measure the importance of foreign trade to the United States has serious limitations. It fails, for example, to show how important the export of over 50 per cent of our cotton crop is to the economic well-being of our cotton-producing states, how much income would be lost to the growers and canners of fruits if we could not continue to ship abroad 40 per cent of our dried fruits, 20 per cent of our canned fruits, and large proportions of our fresh fruits, and how important foreign trade is to the middle west and industrial east. We export about one-tenth of our automobiles, one-fourth of our agricultural implements, one-tenth of our industrial machinery,

The Negus Goes To Jerusalem.

ZURICH, Switzerland.—Rome was not modest in its triumph. The fascist press trumpeted on the vanquished. "A deserter," the Voca d'Italia called the Negus when he left for Djibouti, which was not very sportsmanlike. For Haile Selassie did not refuse to share the further destinies of his people. He departed at the last moment when everybody had deserted him and the chiefs had refused to organize a new resistance in the western mountains. Several of his commanders had betrayed him at Dessie.

Moreover, 51 states which had solemnly affirmed their support of the emperor were an injustice and the annexation of that country by Italy would be a crime, in the end allowed to do as he liked. A great European number of the world's confidence in the League of Nations. Haile Selassie goes to Jerusalem, the city of his reputed ancestor, King Solomon. He and the emperor have always been generous donors to the small Coptic community in Jerusalem. The imperial couple own a house there on the "Street of the Holy Sepulchre." Ultimately they will probably settle in London or Paris, but in the meantime they will be able to see how their compatriots, the Coptic Christians, live under a regime of racial discrimination in the city whose name means Peace of God. For when the Turks divided the Basilica of Holy Sepulchre into spheres of influence, so to speak, among the Greeks, Latin and Armenian denominations, that is to say, gave each a strictly delimited area in that church, after years of wrangling and bloody fights the Copts who are nevertheless one of the oldest branches of the church universal, were told to get out. When they wanted to dwell in the consoling nearness of the miraculous tomb someone said in derision: "Go and sit on the roof!"

This they did. The Copts have been sitting on that flat roof these many hundreds of years. Nobody has been able to dislodge them. Nothing but poison gas could, through a little opening in the cupola they can look down on the dust-laden canopy that covers the empty sepulchre. I have looked through the hole many times myself and on one occasion saw a scene of great confusion and heard the strident cry of battle as Greek monks down below, snatching the Latin mass by forcibly clamping the copper gongs. Long before Addis Ababa moved up to the foothills, I heard its friends and neighbors mentioned with awe and reverence. That roof as a city where "the true version of the Gospel" is kept. We became friends, the monks and I, and whenever I am in Jerusalem where rumors travel faster than by telephone in a western city, I must count it to receive a delegation of the Coptic clergy and the emperor accompany them to their strange settlement. Since I delight in ceremonial, I am in a happy ship at all times. To the contrary: a delight.

The Coptic religious settlement on that roof is a pitiful conglomeration of mud huts and a mud-chapel grouped around a well. The Copts are not the roof of the church goes over imperceptibly into an adjoining hillock, which is called Calvary, and where the monks usually are put out to graze. It is here that Haile Selassie, whose name signifies "Delight of the Holy Trinity," will go to worship and hear the recital of long litanies and the melodious chanting of the sacred language of the Ethiopian church. A dispatch from Jerusalem says that the monks began to recite the service of lamentation for the emperor he heard of the destruction of Addis Ababa. I think some others would have reason to lament the fate that befell the Negus. A new and dangerous precedent has been set. Others will now try to do what Mussolini did. In fact, Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia opens a new era in which not reason and rapprochement, but intimidation, threats of war and force are to be used as instruments of negotiation.

SOUNDS LIKE BETTER TIMES

Two hundred and thirty millions of dollars—almost twice the expenditures for the first third of 1935—were spent by railroads of the nation in the first four months of 1936 for new equipment and material, other than fuel. Most of the spending, it is reported, was needed to enable the roads to handle increased business.

Locomotives and freight cars which have been going to wrack and ruin on unused sidetracks for the past six years are being junked. Orders for new freight cars during the first three months of the year total 13,500, compared with 432 in the same period of 1935. Car loadings continued to mount in the face of a reduction of 400,000 during the depression, and further freight improvement is expected.

This information does not come from the federal administration, nor from the press office of the democratic national committee, but from the statisticians of Railway Age, nationally recognized publication devoted to interests of the railroads. It further announces that 250,000 new jobs would be created by the rebuilding program.

Coincident with this cheerful information, President K. T. Keller, of the Chrysler Corporation, announced that a wage increase for shop employees, aggregating between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 annually, would become effective June 1. This is the third general increase in wages made by the Chrysler Corporation since August, 1933. President Keller said that the corporation paid out $92,000,000 in wages and salaries last year and that the pay roll to date this year is running ahead of 1935.

Two hundred and fifty thousand men, now idle, put to work at good wages; a large force of men now at work, with over $5,000,000 more to spend during the coming year! When all that money starts circulating round in the marts of trade, it will increase employment in dozens of other lines of industry. The movement continues upward and onward toward a sound and safe basis of prosperity.

This they did. The Copts have been sitting on that flat roof these many hundreds of years. Nobody has been able to dislodge them. Nothing but poison gas could, through a little opening in the cupola they can look down on the dust-laden canopy that covers the empty sepulchre. I have looked through the hole many times myself and on one occasion saw a scene of great confusion and heard the strident cry of battle as Greek monks down below, snatching the Latin mass by forcibly clamping the copper gongs. Long before Addis Ababa moved up to the foothills, I heard its friends and neighbors mentioned with awe and reverence. That roof as a city where "the true version of the Gospel" is kept. We became friends, the monks and I, and whenever I am in Jerusalem where rumors travel faster than by telephone in a western city, I must count it to receive a delegation of the Coptic clergy and the emperor accompany them to their strange settlement. Since I delight in ceremonial, I am in a happy ship at all times. To the contrary: a delight.

The Coptic religious settlement on that roof is a pitiful conglomeration of mud huts and a mud-chapel grouped around a well. The Copts are not the roof of the church goes over imperceptibly into an adjoining hillock, which is called Calvary, and where the monks usually are put out to graze. It is here that Haile Selassie, whose name signifies "Delight of the Holy Trinity," will go to worship and hear the recital of long litanies and the melodious chanting of the sacred language of the Ethiopian church. A dispatch from Jerusalem says that the monks began to recite the service of lamentation for the emperor he heard of the destruction of Addis Ababa. I think some others would have reason to lament the fate that befell the Negus. A new and dangerous precedent has been set. Others will now try to do what Mussolini did. In fact, Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia opens a new era in which not reason and rapprochement, but intimidation, threats of war and force are to be used as instruments of negotiation.

SOUNDS LIKE BETTER TIMES

Two hundred and thirty millions of dollars—almost twice the expenditures for the first third of 1935—were spent by railroads of the nation in the first four months of 1936 for new equipment and material, other than fuel. Most of the spending, it is reported, was needed to enable the roads to handle increased business.

Locomotives and freight cars which have been going to wrack and ruin on unused sidetracks for the past six years are being junked. Orders for new freight cars during the first three months of the year total 13,500, compared with 432 in the same period of 1935. Car loadings continued to mount in the face of a reduction of 400,000 during the depression, and further freight improvement is expected.

This information does not come from the federal administration, nor from the press office of the democratic national committee, but from the statisticians of Railway Age, nationally recognized publication devoted to interests of the railroads. It further announces that 250,000 new jobs would be created by the rebuilding program.

Coincident with this cheerful information, President K. T. Keller, of the Chrysler Corporation, announced that a wage increase for shop employees, aggregating between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 annually, would become effective June 1. This is the third general increase in wages made by the Chrysler Corporation since August, 1933. President Keller said that the corporation paid out $92,000,000 in wages and salaries last year and that the pay roll to date this year is running ahead of 1935.

Two hundred and fifty thousand men, now idle, put to work at good wages; a large force of men now at work, with over $5,000,000 more to spend during the coming year! When all that money starts circulating round in the marts of trade, it will increase employment in dozens of other lines of industry. The movement continues upward and onward toward a sound and safe basis of prosperity.

FULL PAVING PLEDGED FOR MONROE HIGHWAY

Governor and Road Board Member Promise To Complete Link This Year.

Emmett Williams, of Monroe, former state senator, yesterday issued a statement in which he said his and other cities of his section have obtained from Governor Talmadge and Commissioner Heck in the State Highway Board, a promise to complete the paving of the route from Atlanta to Monroe.

Senator Williams and a large delegation from Oconee, Gwinnett and Walton counties visited the governor Thursday.

Williams' Statement.

The Williams statement follows: "A delegation of about 50 people from Walton, Oconee and Gwinnett counties met with the Governor and Commissioner Heck in the Governor's office to discuss with him the matter of completing the pavement on State Highway No. 10, Federal Highway No. 78.

"Both the Governor and Commissioner Heck stated to us that plans were about completed and ready for submission to the Bureau of Roads for approval to pave the seven-mile unpaved stretch of road from the Le-Kalb county line to Snellville. This seven-mile stretch is the only part of the road from Monroe to Atlanta that is not paved. Also, this seven miles is the only unpaved county seat to county seat road within a radius of 50 miles of Atlanta.

Promised Definitely.

"The Governor and Commissioner Heck promised definitely to get plans in shape to let the contract for paving the above portion of the road in the second highway letting from federal funds, which letting is scheduled for July. They both agreed the road should have been paved long ago and that the terrible condition of the road in both summer and winter, as well as the dangerous condition existing on the Lawrenceville road made the paving of this road paramount.

LINDER REMOVED FROM PROGRAM

Charges Macon Wholesalers Responsible for Talk Cancellation by Retailers.

Commissioner of Agriculture T. M. Linder charged yesterday a few wholesale produce dealers in Macon are responsible for the removal of his name from the convention speakers' list of the Georgia Retail Food Dealers' Association.

President S. A. Camp, of the association, said Linder's name was stricken because of opposition to state farmers' markets, being sponsored by the commissioner.

Linder was to have spoken at Macon May 25.

The commissioner said he "put two and two together" and concluded the trouble was in Macon.

"The Georgia Retail Food Dealers' Association are allowing themselves to be used as a tool of a few wholesale dealers in Macon who figure they can make more money out of California produce than they can make out of Georgia farmers' produce," he said.

Camp, in answer to queries, said: "I was asked to have the (Linder's) name withdrawn."

"There seems to be opposition to the state farmers' markets in some sections. We, here in Atlanta, are very well satisfied with them, however."

A chain of state markets is now being erected under Linder's direction. Several already have been opened.

Sponsor and Major at Marist Cadet Review

Elizabeth Kelley, battalion sponsor, and Cadet Major Bob Haubenreiser, shown above, participated yesterday afternoon in the annual review of the cadet battalion of Marist College, held on the campus of the institution at 355 Ivy street, N. E. Staff photo by Turner Hiers.

CADETS AT MARIST IN ANNUAL REVIEW

Medals Awarded Following Colorful Program of Exhibition Drills.

Exhibition drills featured the annual review of the cadet battalion of Marist College, held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the campus of the institution at 355 Ivy street, N. E. Cadet Major Bob Haubenreiser led the 160 cadets, as they paraded to the music of the Marist College band under the direction of Robert Umbach, drum major. Following the review and exhibition, medals were awarded to outstanding cadets.

The Rev. W. M. Lanlon, principal of the college, and several guests, including sponsors of the battalion, were in the reviewing stand. The review concluded with a promenade, and the serving of refreshments.

BEER OFTEN BLIND FOR RUM, SAYS KEY

Mayor Hits Illegal Sales in Again Urging Municipal Liquor Store.

Many beer and wine saloons are being used as blinds for the illegal sale of hard liquor, Mayor Key asserted yesterday as he again championed the operation of a municipal liquor store to "prevent the debauching of the community's morals."

Key's comment came during a public hearing on a council move to revoke the beer and wine permits of three Atlanta establishments. He and Alderman I. Glover Haley clashed over the liquor store idea, which Key has fostered for the past several years, but which city council has refused to vote. Key also approved an ordinance to lay curbing on Snyder street to which objection had been raised.

"I've told you time and again how to remedy the illegal sales of liquor," Key told Haley. "It just takes a little sense and you haven't got it."

"Operation of a liquor store is a different proposition from the revocation of these permits," Haley retorted. "I'll never consent to debauching the morals of this city by going into an illegal business."

LEGION ELECTION

Leo Gilbert Named by Buckhead Comrades.

Election of Leo S. Gilbert as commander of the Waldo M. Slaton post of the American Legion at Buckhead was announced yesterday.

Other officers chosen were E. B. McDougal, senior vice commander; R. S. Ennis, junior vice commander; Ward Tyler, adjutant; Frank M. Stevens, treasurer; Collier Laird, historian; and Murt Kelly, sergeant-at-arms. Members of the executive committee are H. T. Upshaw, Archie Mitchell, Frank M. Stevens, George D. Newton and L. Marvin Roberts, retiring commander.

Plans are on foot for the building of a civic community home for the post. Under the administration of Commander Roberts, the post was responsible for the establishment of military training at North Fulton High school, and was instrumental in the removal of the street car switch from the center of Buckhead to its present site outside the traffic section.

EAST LAKE FIELD ENDS QUALIFYING THIS AFTERNOON

C. Rainwater Holds Lead With 71; Class Scheduled at 9 O'Clock.

By Roy White.

Qualifying rounds for East Lake's annual club championship tournament will end with this afternoon's rounds. Qualifying rounds as well as the matches may be played over either course, agreeable to both participants.

Crawford Rainwater, who has planned a busy summer program of major tournament play, took the lead with a 71 several days ago.

Scott Hudson Jr. is the defending champion and will have to qualify; he will be placed in the No. 1 position in the championship bracket.

Play in the championship division will be from scratch throughout, while handicaps will apply in all other divisions.

One week will be given over to each round of play, so that every entry will have ample opportunity to complete every match.

It is the biggest tournament of the year for members of the East Lake club, and the golf committee is particularly anxious to have a record entry, since the regular Saturday and Sunday events have set new records this spring.

Members may "kill two birds with one shot" today by qualifying in the club tournament and also participating in the weekly blind bogey.

Another of the weekly Saturday morning golf classes for young members of the East Lake club, and members will be held at 9 o'clock this morning.

The class has shown a continual increase since the beginning in April and much progress is being shown from week to week.

Three Blind Bogeys Scheduled Today.

Blind bogey tournaments await members of the Druid Hills, Capital City and Ansley Park clubs this afternoon.

Qualifying Opens For Cleaners' Tourney.

Qualifying rounds for the "Cleaners" tournament will open this afternoon on the Candler park municipal course. It is the first tournament of the year to be played on a municipal course, and every amateur golfer in the city is eligible and invited to participate.

The qualifying will be extended over a period of eight days and match play likewise will be extended over several days.

Wallace Linquist, the Candler park professional, will be in charge of the tourney and entries must be made with him at the clubhouse.

HANSON BEATS CHENEY, 4 AND 3

W. T. Hanson, assistant principal of Tech High school, defeated W. O. Cheney, principal, 4-3, to win the school faculty golf championship Friday on the Black Rock Country Club course. It was an all-out war, with Hanson gaining his first major victory over Cheney.

McCord plays Dillard in the finals of the second flight some afternoon this week, as the second flight was not completed.

The tourney was played in four-somes. Each player faced each other and scores of the first round counted as two matches.

W. O. Cheney was the defending champion and drew a bye to the final round.

The results:

FIRST ROUND.
Hanson beat Cheney, 4-3.
Duke beat Brown, 4-3.
Tulbert beat Savage, 4-3.
Brigham beat La Cour, 2-1.

SECOND ROUND.
Hanson beat Duke, 4-3.
Brigham beat Tulbert, 1 up.
Duke beat La Cour, 4-3.

FINALS.
Hanson beat Cheney, 4-3.
Duke beat Brown, 4-3.

SECOND FLIGHT.
Shaw defeated Cox, 1 up.
McCord beat Collins, 1 up.
Duke beat La Cour, 4-3.

RECIPE FINALS.
McCord beat Shaw, 1 up.

BRITISH NETMEN IN SEMI-FINALS

PARIS, May 22.—(AP)—England's Davis cup tennis team will have an intrasquad workout tomorrow in the semi-final round of the French hard courts doubles championships with the regular combination of George P. Hughes and Charles R. D. Tucker opposing the singles stars, Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin.

Both British teams gained the penultimate round after dropping one set to their opponents today. Hughes and Tucker, who trounced the American champions, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, in the cup challenge round at Wimbledon a year ago, defeated the young French team of Pierre Pelissier and Yvon Petra, 10-8, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Another French pair, Andre Martin-Legeay and Jean Lesueur, were victims of Perry and Austin. The Britons conquered the Tri-colors, 6-4, 6-1, 6-7, 6-3.

The veteran Jean Borotra and Marcel Bernard, of France, gained another of the semi-final brackets with a 12-10, 6-3, 6-3 victory over F. H. D. Wilde and Charles Hare, of England.

Their opponents will be decided by the quarter-final match between Jacques Brugnon and Christian Brossus, of France, and Gottfried von Cramm and Karl Lund, of Germany. Brossus and Brugnon moved into the round of eight today by defeating Ferenc Kuksinovic and Josef Mitic, of Yugoslavia, 6-3, 6-8, 7-5, 6-4.

As the result of today's play, America's last two representatives were eliminated from the doubles competition. Florence Le Bouillier, of New York, and Raymond Rodol, of France, lost to Mme. Sylvia Henrotin and Martin Legay, France, 6-2, 6-1, in a third rounder, and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, of New York, and Mme. Henrotin were beaten 7-5, 6-0, by Susan Noel, of England, and Jadwiga Jedzejowska, of Poland.

Sandlot Game.
The Tigers and the Aros, sandloters from Cartersville, will play at 10 o'clock this morning on the waterworks diamond. The Tigers have won two games and are anxious to arrange games with any team whose players are not over 16 years of age.

Were You There Last Night At the Reunion?

The Atlanta Baseball Family held its spring reunion last night.

Out at the ball park on old Ponce de Leon. Hot dogs, hamburgers and soft drinks were served. Also peanuts and popcorn. (The stomach of the baseball fan is a hardy piece of machinery.)

It was quite a gathering. Yes, sir, a turnout. The old gentleman, mother and the kids took the night off and saw the game.

The crowd was almost 17,000. With no inducements offered other than baseball. Good, old-fashioned baseball.

They spilled out of the stands onto the field. They yelled themselves hoarse over the game. It was quite a night. Yes, sir, a real old-fashioned reunion. With dinner on the grounds. What a night! And what a game!

HOW TO SAVE THE LIGHT BILL.

Are you one of those men who glares at the Little Woman about the light bill?

And asks why she doesn't turn off the lights when they aren't being used? And does the house have to be lit up like a Christmas tree?

You might, then, be interested in Mr. Earl Mann. His bill for the lights was $100 last night. It costs that to light the Cracker park for a night baseball game.

And the ladies get in free. They bring their knitting and their tating and they sit there and knit. At home the lights are out. The radio is silent. The meter turneth not. It rests.

But Mr. Mann does not mind. He aims to please. It pleases him to harken to their shrill contralto shrieks as they cheer each and every play. If there is not enough light, Mr. Mann will supply more.

Ladies' night provides the ideal solution for cutting down the home light bill.

It was just about five years ago the lights began to appear in our set. And your reporter deplored them, but advanced the opinion they were here to stay and would, like rabbits, multiply.

There were loud negative shouts. Mr. Joe Engel, at Chattanooga, said baseball was a game for sunshine and he would NEVER give in. New Orleans guffawed at the idea. Birmingham laughed. Memphis scoffed. But the boys are all line. The lumens glow at seven paces in the league.

Bob Allen, the originator of night baseball in the Dixie circuit, is the only owner without them. The park at Knoxville belongs to the city. Should he put in lights they would belong to the city. Bob Allen therefore stoutly insists he does not need them.

AND THE BALL PLAYERS.

Night baseball found the players antagonistic. They were sure it wouldn't work.

There was too much dew. They couldn't see the ball. They cooled out too quick. The ball became too wet. And so on.

The facts are there are fewer errors at night than day. A check of night game play would reveal players handle the ball better. There has been such an improvement in lighting facilities the ball is plainly visible at all times. Spectators follow it readily.

There is some discomfort for the players. Their feet, once the dew comes, get wet. And shoes go to pieces sooner. And good baseball shoes cost from $17 to $25 per pair. But night baseball has much to recommend it. It affords an opportunity for many people to see baseball games who ordinarily would not be able to do so. And Atlanta's baseball does not compete with other night amusements. The shows are but twice weekly, instead of nightly, and they number only a score during the season.

The players don't mind the game as much as they did five years ago.

But there is one more complication. Major league managers, some of them at any rate, assert players who bat at night do not bat as well by day. And they refuse to consider averages as sure signs of batting ability if the player has accumulated many points in night games.

This will not stand up for long. Night baseball is in one major league city. It will be in others within a few years. There is no reason why it shouldn't be.

FROM RAGS TO RICHES.

The prize ring produces the best stories. It makes Horatio Alger stories seem very wan and anaemic. (By the way, does anyone read those stories today?)

Schmeling is to fight Joe Louis in June. He will receive as his share of the receipts approximately $200,000. At most the fight can go 45 minutes. I rather imagine it will go no more than 15 minutes. Or five rounds.

A decade ago Schmeling was a laborer and a preliminary boxer in Germany. He looked like Jack Dempsey. And at that time the boxing world was looking for another Dempsey.

Schmeling was brought to this country by his German manager, Joe Jacobs captured him. The time was ripe for a killing. There were no good heavyweights on the scene. And Schmeling looked like Dempsey.

He had one virtue—he was game. He had a fair right hand—although he never really knocked anyone kicking. He actually was a poor fighter. His record shows no victories of note.

AND YET HE MADE GOOD.

Despite this, the German boy earned prizes amounting to about $550,000 in America. When he fights Joe Louis he will have earned approximately $750,000.

Which isn't bad for just a fair sort of heavyweight. He lost part of that to managers, some of it went to his own government and some to Uncle Sam's. Of that $750,000 he should have about one-third when he settles down following his Louis fight.

Ten years ago he was a porter, scrubbing floors and trying to learn to box. The prize ring can give you stories like that. No other sport can.

MAYOR KEY DAY.

They will celebrate Mayor Key day at the ball park Sunday. And there is a day which should be celebrated! Mayor Key did much to make possible the wholesome, healthful recreation of watching a baseball game on Sunday afternoon and at the same time making brighter the lives of helpless people. Some day it might be a good story to tell how many lives have been helped by the baseball charity funds—funds which were not available before. And funds which would not be available were the games to be discontinued.

GRANT, ALLISON SPLIT TWO SETS IN HARD BATTLE

'Bitty' Blazes Through First, 6-1; Drops Second at 13-11.

HAVERFORD, Pa., May 22.—(AP) Bryan (Bitty) Grant served his most forcible notice today—on Davis cup followers in general and Wilmer Allison in particular—that he can't be overlooked yet for the international tennis wars.

In a bitter struggle, the Atlanta "atom" split two sets with Allison, who is regarded as the only man between him and a possible singles berth for the American zone cup final with the Australian racquet-wielders May 30, 31 and June 1.

Rushing things from the start in the first of the exhibitions that are expected to decide the playing positions in the Australian match, Grant swept the first set, 6-1, in fast time, and took a 3-0 lead in the second before Allison put on pressure and pulled up. Grant, however, continued to give the national champion plenty of trouble, and before the set ended, it went 24 games, with Allison on top, 13-11.

Sharing interest with the Allison-Grant engagement was Donald Budge's fine showing against the veteran Karel Kozeluh, the Czech professional, who has been helping train American Davis cup performers for the last two years. Budge showed that he will be a threat against any player in the world this year by taking Kozeluh over in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2.

The third exhibition brought together John Van Ryn, who was displaced by Grant on the four-man squad for the Australian match, and Mako. Van Ryn took the first two sets, 6-2, 6-4, and dropped the third, 5-7, after holding set point at 5-3.

RED RAIN TESTS WIDENER'S HORSE

By Orlo Robertson.

NEW YORK, May 22.—(AP)—J. E. Widener's Brevity, unexpectedly beaten by Bold Venture in the Kentucky Derby, resumes his campaign for the year-old honors tomorrow in the 61st running of the Withers Mile at Belmont Park.

Winner of the Preakness as well as the Derby, Bold Venture was named among the 10 three-year-olds named for the $5,000 added event but Brevity faces as imposing a field as that which lined up at Churchill Downs three weeks ago with the Widener chestnut the favorite.

Alongside Brevity at the top of the field stands C. V. Whitney's Red Rain, rated one of the best of the two-year-olds last year. The Whitney colt was beaten a head by Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Delphinium, also named for the Withers, in his only start this year but he ran a race that indicated he would furnish the Widener colt with strong competition tomorrow.

Each will have the benefit of rides by two of the leading jockeys in the sport. Wayne Wright will be on Brevity, seeking to swing back into the stride which carried him to victory in three rich stakes this year prior to the Derby, while Raymond (Sonny) Workman will be in Red Rain's saddle.

Brevity and Red Rain were the choices in the pre-race figures at 6 to 5 and 7 to 2, respectively, but there is enough class among the other entries to turn the tables on either of the stars if they fail to run to their best form.

Three of the colts, which finished behind Bold Venture and Brevity in their better Derby duel, have been entered. They are C. B. Shaffer's Coldstream, foaled at the Downs; E. C. Bradley's Bien Joli and Tenfel from the Wheatley stable. It was Coldstream that raced Red Rain to a dead heat in the Saratoga special last year. The horse that is most likely to cause the favorites trouble, however, is John Hay Whitney's Mr. Bones. In his initial three-year-old effort, the son of Royal Minstrel ran away from a field of his age at seven furlongs. Back among the also-rans was Delphinium, generally regarded as one of the best of the three-year-olds at a mile or less.

FIELD COMPLETE.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Memory Brevity, which trailed in the Preakness, Ogden Phipps' White Cockade, a stablemate of Tenfel, and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Postage Due complete the field.

Although the race has only a $5,000 added value, the winner will receive close to $15,000 net as the result of the conditions which call for nominations as a two-year-old and subsequent payments thereafter.

Rushaway Added To Latonia Field.

COVINGTON, Ky., May 22.—(AP)—A surprise entry, G. Tarn's Rushaway, scrambled the odds late today for the Latonia Derby of $15,000 added.

Hollywood, winter book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, continued as the horse to beat despite Tarn's last-minute announcement that he would ship Rushaway, winner of the Louisiana Derby, from the Illinois Derby at Aurora, Ill., in time to compete for the big Latonia stake Sat. day.

Tarn said he hoped Rushaway, which set a new track record of 1:59.4 in winning the Louisiana, could capture both the Illinois and Latonia stakes on successive days and assigned J. Longden to pilot the horse.

Rushaway Wins Illinois Derby.

CHICAGO, May 22.—(AP)—Rushaway, winner of the Louisiana Derby, won the $12,000 added Illinois Derby at Aurora today, with Count Morse second and Reelion third. Danieper, which finished second, was disqualified for roughing Count Morse in the stretch.

Avondale Opens.

Avondale swimming pool will open for the season this afternoon at 2:30 with a program which includes a fashion review, music and other entertainment.

The public is invited to attend the opening.

Thomas Holds Travelers to Four Hits

By Jack Troy.

Luther (Bud) Thomas stood out in full relief at Ponce de Leon park last night in full view of a tremendous first-nighter crowd of 16,541, and it must have been a relief to the Little Rock Travelers when the last out was made for Thomas gave up only four finely spaced hits as the Crackers won, 2 to 0. It was Thomas' sixth victory of the season.

There was drama under the lights at the old ball game. Cy Moore, the Elberton (Ga.) boy, put up a real battle with Thomas up to the eighth, when he was removed for a pinch-hitter. Burgess turned the Crackers back in their half of the eighth.

Moore allowed the Crackers only five hits, but two of them were good for the margin of victory.

It was suggested in the press box, about the eighth inning, that a player hitting a home run would make himself mighty popular with the fans.

RICHARDS HOMERS.
Paul Richards must have got it by mental telepathy, or something. For he trotted up to the plate in full view of the 16,500 and more fans, looked Cy Moore squarely in the face and slammed a four-bagger into the republican stands.

There was a roar that sounded like a thousand sticks of dynamite suddenly exploding in a distant cavern. Richards ambled around the sack with a grin on his face. It was the telling blow. And it set those 16,541 happy baseball souls reeling. It sort of removed some of the tension of a game that had gone past the seventh inning with only one run having been made.

The Crackers had come through with the opening run in the sixth. Hamel drove a double down the first base line. It seemed close, and the Little Rocks questioned its authenticity no little. Add to no avail.

Then Johnny Hill, of Douglasville, laid down a neat sacrifice, sending Hamel to third. Up came Alex Hocky. He hit the first-pitched ball on a line to Nonnenkamp in center field and Hamel scored after the catch.

HAMEL GETS TWO.
Of the five hits made by Atlanta, Hamel was good for two of them. No Little Rock player got two. As mentioned, there were only four. And they were beautifully scattered.

It was a pitching masterpiece by Uncle Bud Thomas. And great credit also is due Cy Moore, the Elberton boy. It took extraordinary baseball to beat him. But then the Crackers are an extraordinary team. That's why they are champions of the Southern league.

There were numerous fielding features of outstanding brilliance as both teams played errorless ball. The support accorded both pitchers was beautiful to behold.

Nig Lipscomb made two great stops and threw, and Alex Hooks made beautiful stretches to retire the runners. Paul Richards fell to his knees collaring a high foul in the infield. Johnny Hill made a miraculous stop and throw. And Hamel supplied the closing drama when he made a magnificent running catch of Deal's line drive to deep center, ending the game.

On the Little Rock side, K. Trent, Nonnenkamp and Gibson turned in sensational plays. It was the greatest game of the year at Ponce de Leon.

Of the crowd of 16,541—16,541 ladies' night—there were 9,125 paid admissions. The total figure far surpassed the opening night crowd of last year, which was a little better than 13,000.

There were no temporary bleachers in center field. So the fans sat along the bank. That is, the overflow crowd. There wasn't room for a sardine in the grandstand or bleachers. Even the colored bleachers overflowed onto the field. It was a colorful crowd, and the game was a real show.

Both teams did, for that matter. The final game of the series will be played this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Moore's 16th inning (3 runs); victory of the season. He will probably face Porter.

THOMAS HOLDS ROCKS TO FOUR SCATTERED HITS

Hamel Scores First Run of Game in Sixth Inning.

Tigers Beat Indians--Giants Win as Phils Rout Giants, 15-0

CLEVELAND USES SIX MOUND MEN IN DETROIT TILT

Lyons Puzzles Browns as White Sox Take 5-3 Game.

CLEVELAND, May 22.—(AP)—The Tigers took an unopposed game from Cleveland today, 13 to 10. Five Indian pitchers were unable to save Cleveland from its fifth straight defeat. Averill and Goulin scored home runs.

The St. Louis Browns were unable to fathom the knuckleball offerings of Ted Lyons and lost their fifth game of the season to the White Sox, 5 to 3, in the series opener.

Lyons yielded eight hits to win his second game of the season while the Chicago team made at least one hit in every inning to amass 11 off Ivy Andrews and Russell Van Atta. Lyons walked only two batters.

Andrews' wildness in the first and fifth innings virtually cost him the game when timely White Sox hits followed. Andrews walked four batters during his seven-inning tenure.

Leading the winners' attack was Mule Haas, who pounded out four hits in five times up and scored one of the Sox runs.

DIZ DEAN BEATS PITTSBURGH, 11-4, IN 6TH VICTORY

Philadelphia Snaps Losing Streak at Expense of Terrymen.

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, stopping here en route home to play off a postponed game, strengthened their hold on first place in the National league today when they whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11 to 4. The victory gave the "Gas House Gang" a margin of one and one-half games over the Giants.

While Dizzy Dean was breezing his sixth victory of the year, the Cards jumped four Pittsburgh hurlers for 17 hits. They chased young John Tasing, Louisville graduate, from the mound during a six-run attack in the second inning and continued their heavy slugging at the expense of Guy Bush, Ralph Birkhofer and Red Lucas.

During the big second inning, the Cards connected with five double to come within one of the major league record for a single inning. Bush also failed to survive the round but Birkhofer, the latter's successor, stayed around until the ninth when he made way for a pinch hitter.

Behind the heavy hitting, Dean had an easy time of it. He allowed only eight hits, three coming in the fourth when the Bucs scored their first two runs.

The Phillies, after losing five straight games, cut loose on the New York Giants as they pounded out 15-10 victory with Rube Walker pitching four-hit ball.

The Phils slammed Fred Fitzsimmons and Hank Coffman for 16 hits, including home runs by Pinky Whitney, Walter and Ernest Sulik. They scored seven runs in the first inning, six in the seventh and added six couple in between.

Fitzsimmons, making his second start of the season after being kept idle for a month and a half, did not get a man out in the first inning before he was relieved by Coffman. Whitney's home run put the Bucs ahead with the final blow off Fitz. Coffman also took plenty of abuse the remainder of the game but Bill Terry let him stay in. Meanwhile, only one Giant got as far as third and that in the fourth when Walter allowed one hit and gave two passes.

Johnny Cooney's 11-inning single drove Jimmy Bucher home with the run that gave Brooklyn a 4-to-3 victory over the Boston Bees after the Dodgers had tied the score in the ninth.

The new marks were set in the 200-meter hurdles, the high jump, 200-meter dash and 5,000-meter run. Tullane won only two first places, winning the meet with 55.2 points mainly on second and third places. North Texas Teachers' College, which finished second with 52 points, won seven first places.

World records may fall tomorrow when star athletes from eight southern states, some of them already holders of recognized marks

National Prize Winner Program To Be Presented by Woman's Club

The last open meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Club for the club year will be held in the banquet hall of the club Monday at 3 o'clock with Mrs. W. F. Melton, president, presiding.

This will be a program meeting, and will be designated as the national prize winner program. Mrs. Bonita Crowe, chairman of music for the club, will be in charge of the first half of the program. Mrs. Crowe has been signally honored on several occasions. Her last honor was conferred at the National Penwomen's convention in Washington in April, when she was invited to present the musical program at the White House, and her original song was sung by Ruth Shagren, soprano soloist at Saint Bartholomew church in New York city, with Mrs. Crowe accompanying at the gold piano in the east room.

Taking part on the program will be Sara Horne, soprano; Frances Stukes, contralto; Helen Riley Smith, mezzo-soprano; Walter Herbert, baritone; Mrs. M. E. Patterson, violinist; Mildred Bourn, cellist; Louise Brown, flutist, and Mary Douglas, violinist. Mrs. Crowe has arranged beautiful musical settings for poems by the following Atlanta poets, and these sections will be given on the program: Dr. W. F. Melton, Lydia Wilson Turner, Dr. Anderson Scroggs, Maude Lay Elton, Lucile Oslin and Margaret Steedman.

Minnie Hite Moody, who received at the penwomen's convention the Margaret Ann memorial prize for the best short story, entitled "The College Widow," will have charge of the second part of the program. Mrs. Moody also received the prize for the best unpublished sonnet, "Word of Wonder." She is the author of two successful novels, "Once Again in Chicago," which went into several editions, and was published both in America and Europe. Her new novel, "Death Is a Little Man," which will be released from the press May 30, has already received much flattering comment from reviewers.

Preceding the program a short business session will be held and a reception will be given at the conclusion of the meeting with Mrs. M. L. Throver, chairman, and Mrs. W. H. Heston, co-chairman, of the hospitality committee, in charge. An invitation is extended to members and friends.

CAMP MENTIONED
FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Adjutant General Is Said
Considered as Choice of Governor in Event He Seeks Senatorial Toga.

Although the state political campaign moved slowly through its early stages during the past week there came no announcement from the Talmadge camp as to what line-up the Governor plans to present to the voters. Despite this, the two announced candidates revealed the dates and places of their opening campaign speeches.

Speaker E. D. Rivers, of the house of representatives, announced yesterday that his opening speech to be delivered on July 4, will be at Gainesville, where the citizens of that city and Hall county are planning a big celebration commemorating the rising of the city from the ashes of its recent disaster.

Meanwhile from Dublin, Judge W. W. Larsen, the second announced candidate, revealed that his opening speech will be delivered exactly one month prior to that of Rivers, on June 4, at his former home city of Swainsboro, where his friends are arranging a barbecue in his honor.

Talmadge Plans Unannounced.
Governor Talmadge has announced that he will speak at his home city of McRae on July 4, but he has not announced whether he will oppose Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. or seek a third term as governor.

Senator Russell also is expected to speak July 4 whether or not he has opposition. The junior senator usually carries an address in the state on Independence Day and is expected to follow custom this year. It doubtless will be a political speech if he is opposed for re-election and if not it probably will be a program address.

As Speaker Rivers and Judge Larsen began active work there were various reports from the Talmadge camp.

Rail Pickup-Delivery
Suspended by I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today reconsidered a previous decision and suspended operation of free pickup and delivery service which a group of eastern railroads proposed to establish May 25.

The commission's ruling reversed both its original decision, allowing inauguration of the service, and a decision earlier this week declining to reconsider the proposal.

The service has been a subject of controversy for more than a month, with trucking interests protesting it as an "invasion" of their field.

Similar service already is in effect in the south and west.

Eastern roads which proposed to inaugurate the pick up and delivery service included the Pennsylvania, Grand Trunk, Baltimore & Ohio and Erie.

Republicans, With Only Two Weeks Until Convention, Are Unpredictably Split, Although Landon Forces Forecast Nomination by Third Ballot.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—nomination, Governor Landon, of Kansas, profited again this week at the expense of Senator Borah, of Idaho. His rout of the legislator in the New Jersey primary aroused speculation over how strong a factor Borah would be in the convention deliberations.

Claims of Landon leading had other claims for Colonel Frank Knox, of Illinois, to contend with. His supporters say they now have around a quarter of the 1,001 voters in the convention.

John D. M. Hamilton, organizer for Landon, has placed the governor's strength at "better than 300 on the first ballot, and nomination by the second or third."

Vandenberg Not Out.
Since a majority—or 501—is necessary to nominate, some at the capital have wondered whether Hamilton is counting on a mass rush to the Kansas executive, or actually has up to 200 promises from delegates to vote his way after the first ballot for "favorite son" is over.

The statement by former President Hoover that he is not a candidate of Landon was not taken into account.

MURDER SUSPECT
CONTINUES DENIAL

Detective, Prosecutor Say
They Are Satisfied With Status of Guyol Case.

With a stoicism comparable only to that of Richard Bruno Hauptmann, the accused slayer of Eddie Guyol yesterday still maintained his innocence in the face of statements by Detective Lieutenant C. E. McCray and Solicitor General John A. Boykin that an airtight case of direct and circumstantial evidence had been built up against the accused man.

Odie Vernon Fluker, convicted robber alleged to have slain Guyol in the driveway of his North Fulton home last spring, faces Mrs. Guyol's identification in a police lineup and evidence of ballistic experts that a gun known to have been built up against the accused man.

The indictment of first degree murder was formally returned against Fluker yesterday morning before Judge John D. Humphries.

Lieutenant McCray indicated yesterday other persons, probably some gangland "higher-ups," are being sought in the case, but branded as false the report that additional indictments would be sought next Tuesday.

Police of a reward of $150 for the arrest and conviction of the Guyol slayer was posted yesterday. The notice was signed by Governor Talmadge and displayed with iron will and steady nerves. Fluker has undergone long

Confession Claimed
In Death of Woman

CHICAGO, May 23.—(AP)—Walter Stornas, deputy chief of detectives, announced tonight that Thomas Starr, 29-year-old negro, had confessed slaying Mrs. Lillian D. Guild, of Attleboro, Mass., in her room in the Y. W. C. A. hotel here May 9.

Starr was seized by police several days ago. Questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Gordon Nash, Starr told conflicting stories about an attempted attack of Lois Rickett, a nurse, in the hospital where Starr was held.

Starr's letter to Howell follows: "Mr. Hugh Howell, Chairman, 'State Democratic Executive Committee, 1004 Atlanta National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga."

"My dear sir: 'Check number 427 drawn by you as chairman of the state democratic committee."

Haile Selassie Sails
For Stay in London

HAIFA, Palestine, May 23.—(Palcor)—Emperor Haile Selassie, of Ethiopia, and his entourage sailed for London today aboard a British warship.

The king of kings submitted the proposal to visit the English capital and received approval from the government. In any action leading to the length of his visit was not disclosed.

The emperor is to travel only as far as Gibraltar on a private citizen. He will make the rest of the trip by regular passenger steamer. He will bring a party of eight persons, but official sources in London are not certain whether the emperor will be included.

The foreign office declined to say whether the Negus will be received as a sovereign or as a private citizen. The only restrictions on his visit will be the same as those enforced during his stay in Palestine—that he not participate in any action leading to further hostilities between Ethiopia and Italy.

LEE IS SENTENCED TO 3-YEAR TERM;
SMITH 18 MONTHS

So-Called "Earl of Pelham" Appeals for New Hearing, But Salesman Begins Serving Sentence

By LAMAR Q. BALL.

Three years in prison for Robert E. S. Lee, the so-called Earl of Pelham, and 18 months in prison for William A. Smith were the sentences handed down by Judge William H. Barrett in United States district court yesterday.

In announcing the sentence, Judge Barrett said:

"For some reason this case has been magnified in the public eye beyond the mere question of moral turpitude."

"I believe the certainty of punishment is more important than severity. Incarceration is more serious and more severe for certain classes of citizens than it is for others."

"It is a great degradation to be imprisoned when a man gets to his middle years."

Sentences Announced.
Judge Barrett then announced the sentences. Smith's 18 months in prison were given him on each of the 39 counts on which he was convicted. Lee's three years were given on each of the 38 counts on which he was convicted. Judge Barrett ordered, however, that the sentences were to run concurrently.

Then arguments began as to motions for new trials and appeals. Judge Barrett refused to permit either Lee or Smith to be released on bond while such motions were pending and, as a result, Smith withdrew his motion and decided to go to prison and serve his sentence. Lee, however, filed a motion for a new trial and Judge Barrett ordered a hearing on this motion before him in Augusta, Ga., on July 25.

Crowds Pack Street.
The courtroom and corridors in the old postoffice building were jammed during the morning and when United States deputy marshals took Lee and Smith out of the building to lock them in the Fulton tower shortly after noon, the downtown corridors were jammed and crowds were packed in Walton street from curb to curb.

The marshals had to fight their way through the crowd that shoved forward for a look at the two men. The trial lasted three weeks and

Huge German Plane
Crashes at Berlin

BERLIN, May 23.—(AP)—The Deutschland, one of the largest land planes in the world, was damaged badly in a forced landing last night. No one was killed.

The plane, which has a capacity of 42 passengers and seven crew men and is powered with four motors, was forced down with six men aboard near the Junkers factory at Dessau, during a trial flight.

All the passengers escaped without serious injury.

With its sister ship, the Hindenburg (Germany) has both an airplane and a Zeppelin by that name. The Deutschland ranked with the ill-fated sister ship, the Hindenburg, as the world's largest land plane. The Gorky crashed, killing 40 passengers.

Bank Clearings Here
Again Show Increase

Bank clearings in Atlanta again skyrocketed, reflecting further improvement in business conditions. Figures released by the Atlanta Clearing House Association for the week showed an increase of $14,000,000, the total being $51,800,000. Clearings for Saturday reported at $7,100,000 registered a gain of $1,000,000 over the corresponding day last year, but were below the total for a week ago.

This week's clearings exceeded those of any week in more than a year.

A. Steve Nance Declines To Serve
As Social Security Board Director

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, May 23.—Well-founded reports were established today that A. Steve Nance, of Atlanta, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, has declined his appointment as regional director of the Social Security Board.

The chief cause of Nance's refusal to fill the office made vacant by Nance's declining to serve, but it is expected that the office will be filled by the end of the month.

No indications have been made as to the person who will be appointed to fill the office made vacant by Nance's declining to serve, but it is expected that the office will be filled by the end of the month.

When I talked the matter over with members of the Social Security Board recently in Washington I understood the regional office was to be established in Atlanta," Nance said. "But with the change to Birmingham it will be impossible for me to accept."

"I cannot move my family to Birmingham and give up other connections here, which it would be necessary for me to do if I accepted the office."

Atlanta originally was chosen as regional headquarters but the change was made because Georgia has no provision for social security.

Reported Confessors in Black Legion Slaying

These four men were named by police as confessed participants in the "execution" of Charles A. Poole, Detroit WPA worker, by the "Black Legion," secret vigilante society. Left to right: Dayton Dean, Harvey Davis, Urban Lippy, and Irvin Lee. Three others of the 16 society members held will be charged with murder, officers said. Poole was shot to death after he reportedly beat his wife. (Associated Press photo.)

DEGREE AWARDS

Victors in NRA Fight
Are Now Flat Broke

NEW YORK, May 23.—(AP)—The NRA fight today ended with the NRA declared unconstitutional, are flat broke. Next week is the first anniversary of their victory.

Their poultry business has suffered badly, the newspaper said, and a for sale sign hangs outside the home of their father, David. A bank will sell the building in a few weeks, the Post said.

The court fight cost the brothers $20,000 in lawyers' fees.

TAX BILL REVISION
ACCORD REACHED

Senate Body Considering Imposition of Half Cent
a Pound Tax on Sugar.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—The senate finance committee agreed today on the fundamental framework of a drastic revision of the house tax bill, and then set out to fill in structural details speedily in an attempt to gain congressional adjournment in a fortnight.

A new treasury estimate placed the yield of the "compromise" measure at $800,000,000 of permanent revenue.

The committee was considering seriously the imposition of a half-cent-a-pound excise tax on sugar, intended to bring in $60,000,000 and lift the total beyond the $800,000,000 asked by the President to finance the farm program and cost of prepayment of the bonus.

Ready Monday Maybe.
A summary was named to study the sugar tax question, but Chairman Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, indicated that for the sake of speed he was willing to report the bill out without delay. If the committee accepted it, he said, it could be inserted on the floor.

The reiterated a hope of final committee action on the bill Monday, although some members said they thought two or three more days would be required.

Nevertheless, there was every indication that the measure would be ready for consideration on the senate floor by late next week.

Three Persons Killed
In Two Plane Crashes

MONTROUSEVILLE, Pa., May 23.—(AP)—Two men burned to death and a third narrowly escaped a similar fate late today when their low-flying airplane crashed into a tree, crashed on the main street of this little borough and burst into flames.

Michael Kovack, of Scranton, pilot of the privately-owned plane, crawled from the wreckage just before the fire started, but was so badly injured he was unable to aid his companions as the flames destroyed the wreckage. Hundreds of passersby witnessed the smash.

Kovack identified the victims as Hiel J. Fulweiler, of Dunmore, former army pilot and one-time New York-Pennsylvania league baseball player, and Harold Garrett, of Scranton.

ONE MAN KILLED.
ANOTHER INJURED
ROANOKE, Va., May 23.—(AP)—William S. Dearing, of Portsmouth, was fatally hurt and Johnny Bower, of near Roanoke, was critically injured when the small monoplane piloted by Bower, crashed near Montville, 14 miles east of Roanoke, shortly after 7 o'clock tonight.

Dearing died a few minutes after near-by residents reached the wreckage. Bower was brought to a hospital here, suffering from fractures of both legs and the right arm, in addition to other injuries. He was described as in a "serious state of shock" and his general condition was regarded as critical.

DETROIT, May 23.—(AP)—State Police Captain Ira H. Marmon, terming the Black Legion "the strong-arm agency for the Ku Klux Klan," announced today that he was investigating a report that 50 Michigan men had been marked for death by the secret vigilante organization.

Captain Marmon said that for months his troopers have been making an extensive investigation of the night-riding society, four of whose members have confessed the slaying of Charles A. Poole here.

Against Jews, Catholics.
The Black Legion's Michigan headquarters are at Napoleon, Captain Marmon said, and there are units in Adrian, Hillsdale, Jackson and Detroit. Prospective members are asked if they will "take up arms against Jews, negroes, and Catholics," he said.

"We are checking all unsolved murder cases and a number of questionable suicides in the state," he said, explaining that he had received a report that the Black Legion was responsible for a number of deaths which had been made to appear suicidal.

Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea, rejecting as "too fantastic" the explanation in the four confessions that Poole was killed because he had beaten a wife, began an investigation of the possibility the young WPA worker was "executed" because he knew too much of the inner workings of the hooded order.

Victims of Mob.
Reports that scores of other citizens had been victims of mob terrorism poured into the prosecutor's office.

McCrea said he had received numerous telephone calls since the round-up Friday of 16 members of the Black Legion, from men who said they had been abducted and beaten by black-robed night riders wearing the death's head insignia of the legion.

"All indications are that this is a powerful organization and one report is that it has 10,000 members in Wayne (Detroit) county," McCrea said. "We are investigating it until we get to the bottom of this."

McCrea said the confessions of four

LEADING STUDENT
AT TECH IS KILLED

Motorcycle-Auto Crash
Fatal to Julian T. Smith; Companion Is Injured.

A Georgia Tech senior, named by his classmates as the outstanding man in the mechanical engineering department, was fatally injured, and his student companion severely bruised and shaken at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a motorcycle they were riding crashed against an automobile driven out of a side road about a quarter of a mile southwest of Lithonia.

The student fatally injured was Julian T. Smith, 23, of Elberton, who died four hours after the accident at Emory University hospital, where he was taken suffering a fractured skull and internal injuries.

H. M. Duvall Jr., 23, of Cheraw, S. C., was said to be severely shaken though not seriously injured.

The students, both seniors in the school of mechanical engineering, were coming towards Atlanta when their motorcycle crashed into the auto at Covington and Arabia roads.

Both his classmates and Professor R. S. King, head of the mechanical department, described the youth as a brilliant scholar.

He had been awarded the president's medal for his scholarship.

Nearly 8 Million Profit
Is Reported by PWA

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—PWA's profit from its revolving fund, which is expected to finance new municipal projects, was reported today at a new high of $7,892,000.

To date PWA has taken over $543,764,734 worth of securities and still holds $130,531,727, the report to Secretary Ickes said. About $300,000,000 additional are to be bought from cities and counties, and sold later for the reconstruction finance corporation.

Proceeds of bond sales go back into the revolving fund, but the $13,559,016 in interest collected to date has been paid into the treasury.

5 Tampa Policemen
Guilty of Kidnaping

BARTOW, Fla., May 23.—(AP)—Five former Tampa policemen today were convicted on a charge of kidnaping Eugene F. Poulton, one of three victims of a mob in Tampa November 30.

The six-man jury in criminal court returned its verdict after slightly more than three hours' deliberation.

The five convicted men are John P. Brown, C. W. Corliffe, F. W. Sullivan, C. A. Brown Jr. and Sam Crosby.

Pat Whitaker, of Tampa, defense counsel, said: "We're going to ask for a new trial."
